Tantalizing Tuesday Review and Giveaway: Hairfree Hairbrushes

posted on mar 3, 2009 at 4:30am

Hairfree Hairbrushes was extremely effective in tantalizing our Tuesday. Now we hope to tantalize yours by offering three of our readers a self-cleaning hairbrush.

REVIEW: Make your morning routine easier with HairFree, a new styling brush that is easy to clean and adjusts to act as a vent brush, in turn, drying your hair quickly.

We tried it out to test these claims.

Wham! Bam! It is true.

With a quick adjustment, our Hairfree hairbrushes morphed from regular round brushes into quick drying vent brushes. The end result was soft hair that barely even needed a flat iron. Our hair was visibly more bouncy, soft, and had a soft curl reminiscent of the '50s flip.

Now, for the cleaning part. Another quick adjustment and all the loose hair collected by the brush slides forward to make it accessible to remove ALL of your hair from the brush.

For us girls on the go, this is a necessity.

For us girls who are germaphobes, this is love.

For us girls who hit the snooze button one too many times, this is a must-have.
